

PRODUCT RECALL: LIQUI FRUIT RED GRAPE 330ML CAN

Pioneer Foods can confirm that LiquiFruit Red Grape 330ml cans related to the batch under recall DOES NOT CONTAIN PIECES OF GLASS as previously reported.

The substance has now been independently verified to be Potassium Bitartrate crystals - a natural occurring substance in products made from grapes - such as grape juice and wine. Crystallization occurs under certain conditions such as e.g. low temperature and in this case occurred post-processing and canning. It is also more commonly known as cream of tartar when used as a cooking aid.

Given the presence of these crystals consumers are still advised not to consume or dispose of the product but to return it for a full refund.

The recall of this specific product batch therefore remains in place. Pioneer Foods apologises for any anxiety and concern caused whilst we awaited the outcome of the detailed analysis of the crystals. A reminder of the product and best before details:
